OUR FIRST EVER CELEBRATION OF THE CITY'S HOME INDUSTRY EXPERTS

BY ERIN BYERS MURRAY

When we relaunched our At Home publication in 2014, we had just an inkling of what was about to happen to the home, design, and real estate market in our city. Two years later, we (and just about everyone else in this ever-expanding industry) are still buzzing with excitement about all of the opportunities the growth has afforded us. On these pages, we're able to consistently showcase the interior designers, artists, craftspeople, architects, and experts who are building, beautifying, and improving the spaces that we dwell in.

This year, we decided to up the game with the launch of the Nashville Lifestyles' Home Awards. We wanted to find a way to lift the entire industry up by showing off the very best of the best. For our first ever awards, we chose 15 categories and put out a wide call for entries. From thousands of entries, expert judges (meet them below) chose six of our winners, while our readers, through online votes, ushered in the remaining awardees. Here, we reveal the winners of our first Nashville Lifestyles' Home Awards. We hope they inspire you—and that we continue to see their work for years to come.
